GANGE PARK HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY

A brief History

The Society was formed in 1941 during the 2nd World War to encourage gardeners to Dig for Victory, grow vegetables and fruit and to rear poultry and pigs which were kept on the allotment at that time. The first Show was in 1942 and the Trading Hut was on the Gryphon Pub Site. It is unlikely that flowers were exhibited until the war was over and also wine making was included in the Show for many years. Over time, the Show has evolved into what it is now, a showcase of what our members can grow on an allotment or in their gardens at home as well as cookery and preserve making
